

Items of Extraordinary Value

All items included in your shipment which are considered to be of extraordinary (unusual) value must be specifically identified, and Mayflower must be advised in writing that they are included in your shipment. Items of extraordinary value are defined as those items having a value greater than $100 per pound per article. Some of the items typically considered in this category include:

- Antiques
- Art
- China
- Computer Software
- Crystal
- Figurines
- Firearms
- Furs
- Manuscripts
- Oriental Rugs
- Silver and Silverware
- Tapestries
- Televisions or Stereos
- Video Cameras

Because Mayflower's liability for your shipment is limited to the written declaration of value which you place on the Bill of Lading, you should include the value of all items, including all items of extraordinary value, in the total amount of released value which you declare for your goods. Please note that protection for items of extraordinary value is not available for shipments which are released to Mayflower at a value of $.60 per pound per article ("Carrier's Liability" option).

If items of extraordinary value are included in your shipment, a High-Value Inventory form must be completed and signed by you prior to your move. In the event of a claim, any settlement is limited to the valuation you declare for the entire shipment. If you fail to list all items of extraordinary value and/or fail to sign the High-Value Inventory form, Mayflower's liability for loss of or damage to those items will be limited to no more than $100 per pound per article, based upon the actual weight of the article (does not apply to shipments under the "Carrier's Liability" option).

Items of Personal Importance/Sentimental Value

The impact of a loss or delay can be lessened if irreplaceable, sentimental items are carried with you and not packed with your shipment. Examples include:

- Address Books
- Airline Tickets
- Car Keys
- CDs
- Checkbooks
- Computer Disks
- Financial Documents
- IRAs/Deeds/Tax Records
- Jewelry/Furs
- Medicine
- Personal Video Tapes
- Photographs/Photo Albums

ORDER FOR SERVICE NO.

All items included in your shipment that are considered to be of extraordinary (unusual) value must be specifically identified and the carrier must be advised that they are included in the shipment. Items of extraordinary value are defined as those having a value greater than $100 per pound. Typical household goods items that frequently have a value in excess of $100 per pound per article are: currency, coins, jewelry, precious metals, precious or semi-precious stones or gems, gold, silver or platinum articles including silverware and service sets, china sets, crystal or figurines, fur or fur garments, antiques, oriental rugs or tapestries, rare collectible items or objects of art, computer software programs, manuscripts or other rare documents. Of course, other items may also fall into this category and must be identified as well.

The purpose of this inventory is to assist you in identifying articles of extraordinary or unusual value so that the carrier will be aware of those items that require special handling and protection. Failure to identify such articles will result in limited carrier liability. This form must be presented to the lead packer before packing begins for carrier packed high value items and to the van operator before loading begins for non-packed or owner packed items. Owner packed cartons containing high value items must be left open for the van operator to view and seal.
